EDTED HEIGHT DURING NIGHT.

TROOPS GUARD BUILDINGS

Every Means Being Taken to Save the Valuable Property in Danger of Crumbling to Pieces.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Jan. 29.—The waters of the Seine after having reached an unprecedented height caused by the floods
and having created great destruction,
began to recede very slowly this morning to the delight of the thousands who have been made practically homeless by the awful disaster.

The crest of the flood was reached
at midnight and at two this morning
the gradual fall began, the waters receding at the rate of one inch every three hours. This rate has since continued during the day. This morning
the sun rose upon a scene of desolation and ruin, swirling waters filling
about the foundations of the palaces and public buildings. There was no rain, however, and the sun shone brightly all day.

Despite the fact that the flood is withdrawing, it will menace a large section of the city. Surface floods and water from the bursted subways have turned many prominent streets into rivers of formidable size and dangerous
to travel and adjacent buildings.

Cordons of troops surrounded the endangered places and firemen and su-
pers are constructing dams to turn or halt the floods. Troops are guarding the buildings and their contents
that are in danger of destruction and
are ready to prevent any disturbances.

Ambassador Lucien has called the Secretary of State's office at Washington that all the Americans in Paris
are safe and in no danger whatsoever.

Off Strike Against Pittsburgh
Coal Co. is Approved.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

eral exciting incidents, President Lewis' report, over which there has

ten thousand miners in Western Penn-

WHITE PLAGUE MAY BALK MAN'S JUSTICE

Alleged Murderess May Plead Her
Case Before a Divine Tribunal Soon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Stoucton, Cal., Jan. 29.—The second trial of Mrs. Emma Le Doux, convicted of having murdered Albert N. Mc-Vicar, her former husband, four years ago, is scheduled to begin here next week. During her long confinement in jail the woman has developed complications and recently has been reported to be in a serious condition.
Whether her trial will begin next week
or be indefinitely postponed will depend upon the reports of the physicians who have attended her.

The crime for which Mrs. Le Doux
was once tried and sentenced to death attracted attention throughout the country. McVicar, her alleged victim, is said to have threatened to make trouble between the woman and her husband, Le Doux, whom she had married. In order to put McVicar out of the way she is alleged to have lured him to her home and killed him
by administering poison in his coffee.
The body of the victim was shipped in a trunk to San Francisco, where its discovery by employees of the railroad company led to the arrest and conviction of the alleged murderers.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers and the operators of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and other States

do Tuesday to formulate a wage agree-

The miners, it is said, will demand an advance averaging 10 per cent in the wages of all miners in the bituminous fields. As the mine operators are understood to be opposed to any increase in wages at the present time it is expected that considerable difficulty will be encountered in reaching a satisfactory agreement.

JEFFRIES READY TO COMMENCE TRAINING

Undeclared Champion Ends Theatrical Tour And Leaves For a Hunting Trip.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Jan. 29.—With $50,000 added
to his bank account as a result of his ten weeks' tour of the country, James J. Jeffries today winds up his theatrical engagements and will start at once to get into condition for his undisputed championship fight with Jack Johnson. Several weeks of hunting and fishing, with all the benefits to be derived from life in the open air
and tramping through woods and over mountains, will figure as the first stunt in the big fighter's programme.
Then will come the arduous grind of the training camp, which will continue up to within twenty-four hours
of the battle for the championship.
Just where the Jeffries training quarters will be established is still a matter of speculation. Either southern California or Mexico will probably be selected as the scene for the preliminary training, with the final workout near the battle ground, in San Francisco, Utah or elsewhere, as the case may be. The work of training, wherever it may take place, will be conducted in a thorough manner. Good hard work will be the daily menu.
The services of some of the cleverest
boxers and wrestlers in the country have already been engaged and a host of trainers will assist in the work. It is evident that if Jeffries is not in the pink of condition when the going calls him into the ring on July 4th next it will not be for lack of faithful training.

NICHOLAS TCHAIKOVSKY AND
CATHERINE BRESHKOVSKAYA'S
CONVICTION ALMOST SURE

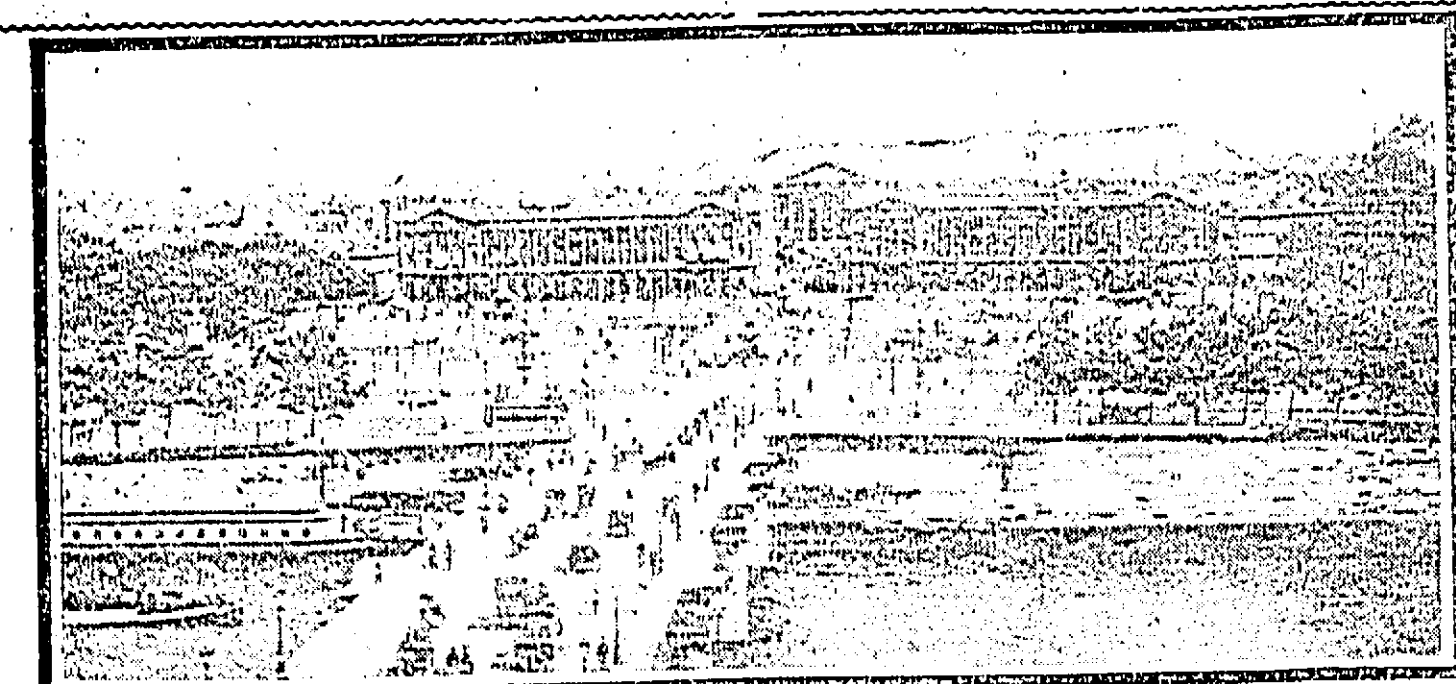

Entangled in Great Web Of Evidence
by Russian Police—Case Excites World Wide Interest.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Petersburg, Jan. 29.—The joint trial of Nicholas Tchikovsky and Catherine Breshkovskaya, the noted
Russian revolutionists and terrorist agitators, is set for next week and as the time for the hearing approaches
the interest in the trial, already intense in Russia as well as in the United States and England, is growing more acute every day. It is almost a foregone conclusion that both defendants will be convicted, as the government seems to be determined to make an example of the two revolutionists whose influence is greatly favored by the reactionary element.
Even the most optimistic friends of the accused feel constrained to admit that only the fact that both defendants are over sixty years old may, to some extent, mitigate the rigor of their sentences.

It is unfortunate for the two revolutionists that, thanks to the thorough system of espionage maintained by the police authorities of the country, the Russian government is in possession of a strong chain of evidence, supported by scores of police spies in the ranks of the revolutionists and ronegades among the members of terrorist organizations throughout the empire.
The joint indictment against Tchik-ovsky and Mme. Breshkovskaya, which was served on them on December 25,
is a document of fifty-eight pages and contains a minute account of the career of the defendants, enumerating
a long series of acts tending to show
that both accused were revolutionists
of long standing and prominently connected with revolutionary agitations
and terrorist plots in various parts of the country. The charges are supported by depositions of witnesses, mostly renegade revolutionists and police spies. Particular weight is given to tionary committee at which plans for armed uprisings and terrorist plots

Tchikovsky is quoted as making speeches in favor of rofieldo, and Mme. Breshkovskaya as avowing participation in the preparations for the assassination of Von Ploevy, Grand Duke Sergius and Constantine Pobelonozov, procurator general of the Holy Synod. Both, it is alleged, were members of the Peasant's Union and incited agrarian disorders in various parts of Russia. The indictment separately charges Tchikovsky with having visited the United States in 1907-7
to arrange for the shipment of arms
to Russia and to collect funds for revolutionary purposes.
The testimony which charges Tchik-ovsky with inciting the murder of the czar reads on the proceedings of the social revolutionary conference at Tammora, Finland, in March, 1907,
at which the renegade Azoff assisted
as an advanced revolutionary leader,
while he was furnishing daily reports
to the Russian police at the same time.
The court before which Tchikovsky and Mme. Breshkovskaya will be tried consists of the presiding judge, officially representing the government,
and one delegate each from the noble citizen and peasant classes. The case has created profound interest in the United States and Great Britain and some time ago a petition, signed by five hundred prominent citizens of New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia was sent to Premier Stolypin,
requesting that the two defendants
be given an open and public trial, "in accordance with the time honored
principles of justice in all nations."

FURTHER DETAILS IN OLEO FRAUDS

FOLLOWS LEAD OF GRAHAM WHO WAS SENTENCED THURS-DAY.

KLIMIS MAKES CONFESSION

Blames Men High Up in the Oleo
Manufacture of the Product for Starting Him in His

It is doubtful if the local police know how deep-laid were when they arrested A. E. Klimis here last November and convicted him of selling the oleo butter. Following upon Graham's confession and sentence to Ft. Leavenworth prison, Edward Klimis, his companion in the work, who is in jail in Milwaukee, has made a written confession as to his part in the fraud of selling oleo, which he had colored as good creamery butter. According to Klimis he was set up in the oleo fraud business seven years ago by the agent of a Chicago oleo manufacturer, and he claims that hundreds of young men, conducting illegal oleo business in practically every state of the union, have been given a start in the business by the oleo and packing interests and helped along by the manufacturers' agents, even to the extent of being instructed in the tricks of the trade.

Barely Many Secrets. The Klimis confession was made in the office of E. J. Henning, assistant United States district attorney, and in the presence of Marshal Harry A. Wolf and Special Revenue Inspector Beecher Stone in Milwaukee. Its complete contents have not been given out because many secrets have been revealed by Klimis that the federal agents do not care to have become public lest they be hampered in their trailing of other oleo lawbreakers.

Since his arrest Klimis has been in the county jail. He furnished $1,000 bail a few weeks after his first arrest, but just as he was about to leave he was re-arrested on another offense. Klimis asserts that he and Edgar Fitzhugh, alias A. E. Graham, came to Wisconsin from the Pacific coast several months ago to "work" the state. He says they had been informed by agents of the oleo manufacturers and the packers that Wisconsin was a particularly rich field because of a butter corner and higher prices on butter than prevailed in any other state.

Engineered Butter Corner. He said they were informed that the packers and makers had engineered the butter corner and boosted the price so as to be able to dispose of colored oleo at the highest possible figure.

Graham was arrested prior to the arrest of Klimis, here, although Graham and Klimis worked together in Milwaukee, having a "plant" in the basement of a rooming house on Broadway. Graham was sentenced Thursday in the federal court at Madison to eighteen months in Fort Leavenworth prison and to pay a fine of $500.

According to Klimis, he and Fitzhugh composed what oleo lawbreakers call a "flying squadron." That is, one does the coloring while the other goes out and finds purchasers. One man is able to color thousands of pounds of oleo in a day. Klimis said that he and Graham came to Wisconsin prepared to buy and sell oleo in carload lots, but the business didn't get that far along when the federal authorities slipped the little game in the end. A "flying squadron" stands ready to leave town on an hour's notice, whenever danger is sensed. The Klimis-Fitzhugh squadron carried a trifle too long.

Language of Their Own. Klimis is 28 years of age. Graham is 26. Klimis says he was what is known to the fraternity as a "gump." He explained that that oleo lawbreakers have a language of their own and are able to carry on conversations about their work so that an outsider would not be able to tell what they were talking about, should the outsider overhear them.

Klimis will have to wait until the grand jury, which does not sit until April, takes action before he can go into court to plead guilty.

NOT A CAMPAIGN FOR SUPREMACY

Christian Science Mother Church is Already in Power—Mrs. Leavitt Incident Misconstrued.

The following communication from the Christian Science committee on publication for the state of Wisconsin has come to the editor's desk:

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 27, 1910.
Editor Gazette.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly allow me space for a few words of explanation regarding the following statement found in your issue of Jan. 18th: "The defeat of Mrs. Leavitt, following the similar fate meted out to Mrs. Stetson, means another victory for the directors of the mother church in Boston in their campaign for supremacy in the affairs of the cult."

I have investigated this report and find that this is not a campaign for supremacy. The mother church is already in power and the episode in question is nothing more or less than the expulsion of an unwelcome member. The Christian Science church proposes to limit that those who hold themselves out to teach and practice Christian Science shall do so consistently.

More strictly speaking, the action of the church in Buffalo indicates a determination on the part of the branch churches of Christ, Scientist, to have a democratic form of government instead of allowing any individual to dominate the affairs of the church.

Yours sincerely,
JAMES PHILLIPS.

Dr. Walter B. Metcalf of Chicago, president of the National Anti-Tuberculosis association, delivered an address on "The Great White Plague" before the Presbyterian Brotherhood last evening and Dr. Wayne A. Munn of this city discussed the ravages of "the Black Plague," or social evil. The talks followed a tempting repast which was served by the S. & B. ladies' club at half past six o'clock to some sixty banqueters. Dr. Metcalf gave a clear presentation of the prevalence of tuberculosis; the progress made by medical men in combating it; and recent researches which tended to show that the disease was not necessarily hereditary. The Brotherhood elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

TWO TERRORISTS WILL BE TRIED

In view of the fact that justice is practically unknown in judicial proceedings in Russia, especially in cases where the defendants are suspected or known revolutionists, and of the additional fact that the government and the police authorities feel extremely bitter against the accused, little hope is entertained for a favorable outcome of the joint trial. Tchulkovsky and Mme. Breshkovskaya have been visited the United States and have hosts of friends and sympathizers in that country, who will anxiously await the final result. Mme. Breshkovskaya has spent the two years since her arrest in December of 1907 in the terrible dungeons of the fortress of Saluta Peter and Paul. Tchulkovsky spent but a short time in the same fortress, when his health broke down and he was released on $25,000 bail, furnished by American and English sympathizers. He lived quietly in the outskirts of St. Petersburg and for a few months in the Crimea, to recover his shattered health. He has collected much testimony and hopes to be able to prove untrue in many instances.

Tchulkovsky was one of the pioneers of the revolutionary movement in Russia and founded the first revolutionary circle in St. Petersburg in 1900. Twice he was arrested and finally he was compelled to leave Russia. He went to Switzerland and then to the United States, engaged in agitation. In 1878 he returned to Europe and not until after amnesty of Nov. 2, 1905 did he dare to return to Russia. He continued his active propaganda and was finally arrested in December 1907.

CLINTON.

Clinton, Jan. 20.—Charles J. Dresser of this place was almost instantly killed by a train in Harvard, Ill., last evening at about 8 p. m.

Mr. Dresser, who is about 50 years old, has been a farmer all his life, having nothing to do for the past few weeks, the high prices paid for snow shovels induced him to go to work working just two weeks today, and had been sent to Harvard, he stepped from in front of one train only to step over on another track right in front of a train coming from the opposite direction. He lived but thirty minutes.

Some Laws of the Kingdom. Matt. vi:17-26, 28-48.

Golden Text—Do ye therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. Matt. v:48.

Verses 17-20—In what sense did Jesus fulfil "the law and the prophets?" How many persons can you recall, from the scriptures of elsewhere who did the perfect will of God, other than Jesus?

There are those who teach that it is impossible for any man to keep all the commandments of God, what reason is there to suppose that these are among the number whom Jesus calls, "the least in the kingdom of heaven?"

What was the "righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees?"

What are the reasons which lead us to believe that all God's commandments are reasonable, and keepable by all Christians, and that those who do not keep them are verily culpable?

Verses 21-22—Recall the prominent outward sins, and then say if any, or all of them, can be committed, in God's sight, without the culminating or outward act being committed?

Why is a man who, out of an angry revengeful heart, calls his brother a fool, and would like to consign him to the worst of suffering, in danger of suffering himself that to which he would consign another?

Verses 23-26—Why cannot a man truly worship God, or enjoy the love and favor of God, while he has bitterness in his heart to another?

According to the teaching of Jesus, what is our duty toward a person who is angry with us, either with or without just cause?

Verses 38-41—Are these precepts to be taken literally and if not, then what do they mean?

See Ex. xxi:24-25, Lev. xxiv:26, Deut. xix:21, and say if these laws are in harmony with the teaching of Jesus?

Are these precepts of Jesus given as rules of conduct, or as underlying principles, and what is the difference in the two ideas?

Can you mention supposed cases, where it would be wise to literally carry out these precepts, of Jesus, and other cases, where it would violate the spirit of Jesus' teaching to do so?

What motive would compel a child of God to literally carry out these precepts of Jesus, when, as often as, The Holy Spirit should indicate?

Verses 42—What attitude should the Christian always take, in the matter of giving or loaning money to those in need?

Verses 43-44—What are the advantages of loving our enemies, and the disadvantages of hating them?

What does it imply, practically, to love our enemies, and is it possible of performance by every Christian?

Verses 45—Why does God treat the evil as well as he does the good, in the matter of sunshine and rain, and the similar common blessings of life?

Verses 46-47—Which gets the greater good out of life and why, the generous and forgiving, or the harsh and those that render evil for evil?

Verses 48—What does Jesus mean by this commandment to be perfect as God is perfect. (This question may have to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Automobile Concern That Wants
to Move Here Ready to Report.

This evening at eight o'clock the committee of two, consisting of George G. Sutherland and Michael Hayes, who have been in Chicago investigating the Monitor Automobile works with a view of bringing their plant to Janesville, will make their report to the gentlemen interested in the matter. This company is in a most flourishing condition and if arrangements are made to bring it to Janesville it will prove a valuable addition to the city. It would employ some seven or eight men to start with and would increase as the demand for its line of goods did.

Contrast in Students.

What a contrast there is between the luxury of the life of the richest man at Harvard and the poverty of the student President Lowell told about, who paid five cents for his dinner by buying decaying bananas, from which he cut out portions that were fit to eat.—Boston Globe.

The sleeves are cut with a slight fullness at the top and are trimmed to correspond with the body of the costume. The picture hat is of velvet straw and trimmed with clusters of grapes and leaves.

June as Wedding Month.

Some of the Maxwell's
Strong Points

UNIT CONSTRUCTION—In Maxwell cars engine and transmission are contained in one housing. This makes it possible to enclose the clutch in an oil tight compartment so that it can run in an oil bath at all times. This again prevents wear and renders the Maxwell multiple-disc clutch the most reliable of all clutches made. Since there are no joints there are no oil leaks, and the alignment of the bearings cannot be disturbed as is so often the case in other construction.

MAXWELL—Model Q 1

Equipped with detachable rear seat for one passenger. An ever-ready, speedy car, of exceptional value to the professional and business man who takes care of it himself.

Four-Cylinder, Twenty-two Horsepower.

MOTOR—3½x4 inches. IGNITION—Double, Magneto and Battery. TRANSMISSION—Sliding gear, three speeds and reverse. WHEELBASE—33 inches. WHEELS—30 inches. TIRES—30x3½ inches. PRICE—$925.00.

THREE POINT SUSPENSION—Of this principle, too, the Maxwell has been the earliest exponent. The motor is suspended in the chassis at three points. Distortion which otherwise would result in the breaking of the shafts and the ruin of the engine bearings leaves the Maxwell unaffected, because in consequence of the 3-point suspension distortion of the frame does not change the relative position of the engine bearings to one another.

MULTIPLE-DISC CLUTCH—This clutch, also one of the original features of the Maxwell, provides a greater contact surface than any other clutch system and is, therefore, more reliable in operation. It requires no attention, and may be enclosed in an oil and dust proof housing where it is kept lubricated. On account of the multiple disc clutch, starting and stopping a Maxwell is accomplished smoothly and without a jar.

THERMO-SYPHON COOLING—Was first used in the Maxwell. It cools the motor without the use of a pump, requires no attention whatever and is the only scientifically correct method of cooling the engine. The adoption of the thermo-siphon cooling by a number of manufacturers of 1010 cars is a flattering proof of the excellence of this system.

Our new garage on N. Main St., where we will display a full line of Maxwells and Kissel Cars, will be opened sometime next week. Opening announcement will appear later.

The Reason

Everyone connected with the manufacture of machinery knows that the greatest expense is in the preparation of designs, patterns, appliances, jigs and tools. Maxwell cars were correct from the beginning and little of the equipment of the factory has gone into the junk heap within the past five years. In consequence the cars are manufactured without the enormous overhead expense which must be paid by the manufacturer who changes his construction from year to year. In the end these expenses must be added to the selling price of the cars. With Maxwells this is not necessary and the saving is the customer's, as it should be.

Nothing but the best material enters into the construction of the Maxwell cars.

The crankshaft is drop-forged, hardened and finished by grinding and accurately balanced.

Connecting rods are of I-beam section, drop-forged; and engine and engine and connecting-rod bearings are of compressed babbit.

The crank case is made of special aluminum alloy and divided into oil compartments insuring perfect lubrication of all the bearings at all times.

In the 30-horsepower as well as in the 22-horsepower motor the removal of hand plates affords easy access to the crank-shaft bearings for the purpose of inspection or adjustment.

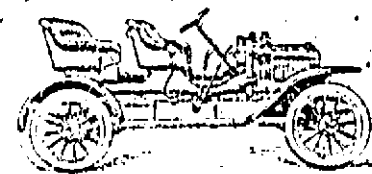

The drive shaft has two universal joints, a construction resulting in an even transmission of the power of the rear axle.

The universal joints are of special design, oil-jacketed.

The springs of the larger Maxwell models are half-elliptic in front and three-quarter elliptic in rear; on the smaller cars they are full-elliptic in front and rear. Bodies are made of steel, with stamped moulding. Careful attention has been given to the construction of the brakes. The drums are of a large diameter lined with a special asbestos preparation which will not burn out and will last longer than any material heretofore used for the purpose.

MAXWELL—Model Q 2

With rear seat for two passengers. Rear seat is detached easily and quickly. The box forming the base for the rear seat furnishes tool box and carrying space of ample capacity.

Four-Cylinder, Twenty-two Horsepower.

MOTOR—3½x4 inches. IGNITION—Double, Magneto and Battery. TRANSMISSION—Sliding gear, three speeds and reverse. WHEELBASE—33 inches. WHEELS—30 inches. TIRES—30x3½ inches. PRICE—$950.00.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

"Any rational mind can see how absolutely futile any attempt will be to restrict or regulate business against its will or its necessities," says Charles Edward Russell in "Success Magazine." "You might as well think of legislating against the force of gravitation."

"If, fair gentlemen of the regulatory school, you can devise a plan whereby man can live without food, water, clothing, shelter, or work, you can reasonably think to interfere with business. Until you do hit upon a plan you must leave business alone, because at present business is man's indispensable source of life. Yes, leave it all alone and every phase of it to work out its own destiny; railroad rebates, watered stock, extortionate rates, congressional veldts, legislative hoodlums, municipal graft and all the rest."

"Laws, elections, reform movements, committees, chancellors, good government clubs, wise gentlemen from the colleges, social experts, theories, preachers, editorialists, appeals to moral standards and the rest are very idle."

"To try with such things to change the course of business is trying to harness behemoth with a pack thread. Business will break through them all, whenever and wherever they get in its way. And this again is right and as it should be, because the function of business—organized, modern, efficient, intelligent, alert business, is to supply man with the things he must have that he may live."

"The only question is whether for its own sake business is, at present, quite wise. There is no question that it can at all times do what it wants to do. The only question is whether it is always moved to do the thing that is wise for itself; not for moralists, reformers, chancellors or gables, but wise for itself and its own welfare, which, in the present stage of evolution, is the only important consideration."

"This question is a plain statement of cold facts, and so true that the sentiment expressed may not be gained."

"The all-absorbing problem of life is business, so much more absorbing than any other problem that it engrosses mind and heart and taxes every resource of energy."

"The boy or girl in school, laying the foundation for a career, is preparing for the business of life. Just what channel they may choose or be forced into does not change the fact that they have entered one of the great avenues of business."

"The man who works in a shop may argue that he is not a part of the great world of activity about him, and that he is in no way responsible for the success or failure of business enterprises, but his reasoning is shallow and will not long be satisfying if he looks at life from a thoughtful viewpoint."

"The business of every life is to find the largest niche which it is capable of filling, and then fill it completely, and when this accomplished the highest order of success has been attained, for success is neither fame nor wealth, but performing well our part in the great drama of everyday experience."

"The man in the shop, devoting energy, fired with ambition, telling day in and day out, with clock-like regularity is one of the important units in the great machinery of the industrial world, and when he slips a cog or goes to pieces more or less friction results."

"The machinery, however, will stand the strain better than the man, for someone is usually ready to take his place, while loss to the individual means a serious break in the business of life not so easily repaired."

Women enter offices and stores, factories and school rooms, for the purpose of engaging in business. The only capital many of them possess is time and ability, but these are in demand and they soon become cogs in the wheels of the world's great mechanism. From the ranks of these toil-ers come the successful workers and many of the housekeepers."

Men enter the same channels and from this army of workers come the captains of industry, and the independent workers in professional, commercial and industrial life, with now and then a statesman or near statesman thrown in, but from the bottom of the ladder to the summit the climb has been made because the business of life demanded it."

The statement has been made, and it is true, that women are the great readers of advertisements, and that no bargain announcement, however obscure, ever escapes them."

Some years ago a drygoods man in Council Bluffs, Iowa, who was skeptical about advertising, consented to a test proposed by a local paper. On Sunday morning a three-line notice in small type, hid in the want column, announced that on Monday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 2 the firm would sell dollar kid gloves for twenty-five cents."

"Before 1 o'clock the big store was crowded and in 45 minutes 500 pairs of gloves were sold and the stock exhausted. Why? Because women have business instincts. They are the buyers for the home and will travel all over town any day to save a nickel on a dozen oranges. If you don't believe it, try it."

The college man may tell you that he touches for love of the work and is not influenced by business considerations, but cut the salary and see how quietly the money evaporates. Even the clergy have been known to move for money."

In the broader field of business where great enterprises are created and successfully developed capital plays an important part, and because of this fact all sorts of jealousies spring up and thrive."

This disposition is encouraged by men who pose as statesmen and reformers, and it sometimes happens, as in the case, that this influence extends to the seat of government. Then the people's representatives take it upon themselves to legislate everything in sight, and all sorts of persecution follow."

"The Interstate Commerce commission is clothed with authority to make rates of freight, whenever a disgruntled shipper makes a complaint. The rate schedules now in their possession include 200,000 items, furnished by experts after years of experience. Yet these practical railroad men are not supposed to know enough about their own business to make an intelligent rate."

The cost of living becomes the absorbing topic of interest, and consumers on the pickers and the court of public opinion finds them guilty before the government gets fairly underway with the investigation and an errand judge has already engaged quarters for them at Joliet. The Inter-Ocean in commenting says:

"The Chicago packers may be a 'beef trust' or may not. Either way there are a few facts to be considered. There is more to the production of dressed beef of the quality demanded by our beef-eaters than just knocking a steer on the head, taking off its hide, dissecting the remains into convenient portions and sending these portions to the kitchen for the cook to do the rest."

"Men of middle age know what kind of beef was produced on the table by the swift and simple processes of beef dressing on the farm in their youth. If offered such beef now they would eat something else."

"The production of dressed beef agreeable to modern taste being a process requiring some time, a rather complicated and expensive plant, some scientific knowledge and a considerable investment of capital, it may be that the packers are in a way a 'beef trust.' They have not these requirements."

"They produce, we believe, nearly one-half the beef eaten in this country, and their product certainly sets the standard of quality for dressed beef in this and all other countries."

"But they can hardly be a pork trust, or a mutton trust, for the production of these meats is by no means highly centralized. They are produced all over the country and consumed by millions of families without ever coming near the Chicago or other great packing houses."

"The national administration's intentions toward the people are undoubtedly benevolent, but we fear they will have little effect in relieving a condition which is not only national but international. Why, then, it may be asked, these recurrent excursions and alarms from Washington?"

"Well, pulverizing the packers seems to be regarded as the kind of indoor sports at the national Department of Justice. When there isn't anything, or anybody, else to prosecute, here are always the Chicago packers."

"Far be it from us to criticize the pleasures or the politics of the Department of Justice. We simply remark that the facts and warn explicitly readers that it is too early to spend the money which they think they have on 'butcher bills' in case some packer or packers should be indicted. The packers will continue to do business, as well as the railroads, and Standard Oil company, and the people will stand as they go on that but little is gained in attempting to block the wheels of progress and development."

FOR JANESVILLE ADVANCEMENT

The effort now being consummated to organize in the interests of Janesville has a promising outlook because the 100 men behind it have invested money enough to warrant both interest and action."

The trouble with businessmen's clubs and similar organizations is that they usually die a natural death through inefficiency. Janesville has had a number of organizations of this kind. They have wined and dined, resolved and re-resolved, and then dissolved or faded away."

The new organization which perfected will be a business organization, pure and simple, and if the plans of the promoters are carried out much good will be accomplished."

The work already done in securing the money represents tireless effort on the part of the younger businessmen of the city, and the fact that this class of men have taken the initiative insures its success."

They have been enthusiastic for the growth and development of the city, and the work of the new organization should be placed largely in their hands. Harmony of action will produce results and there is every reason to believe that much will be accomplished by the new organization if everybody becomes a booster."

We have often roared Nero that he played his violin, while his native Rome was burning and the firemen raked a din; there he sat NERO'S and played "Meditation," heard FIDDLE while the fire chief stormed and sweated in his red uniform. And I often think that Nero had a pretty level head; would the fire have been extinguished had he fussed around instead? Would the fire insurance folks have loosened up a shkel more, had old Nero, equipt with some grocer's collar door? When there came a big disaster people straightway lose their wits; they go round with heads a-aching, sweating blood and throwing fits; but the wise man sits and fiddles, plays a tune from end to end, for it never pays to worry over things you cannot mend. It is good to offer battle when enthusiasm advances, it is well to keep on scripping while a fellow has chance; but when failure is as certain as the coming of the dusk, then it's wise to take your fiddle and fall back on "Money Musk."

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY
MME. LANGENDORF. Mezzo-Soprano.
From the Royal Opera, Vienna, and Metropolitan Opera House, New York.

Appolo Club, Library Hall, Feb. 7, 8 p. m.

The Appolo Club through a fortunate train of circumstances was able to secure this famous grand opera singer, Mme. Langendorf, who is known as the woman with a thousand dollar voice, or in other words, whose managers consider her voice worth $1,000 per night. A grand opera singer such as Mme. Langendorf in Janesville presents an opportunity that does not happen more than once in a good many years. Lovers of grand opera who want to hear one of the world's great voices should not fail to be present at the Appolo Club on Saturday night.

To those not members, admission $1.00, which is merely nominal compared with the price paid to hear grand opera singers in Chicago or New York.

Reservations for tickets should be made at once to the Secretary Appolo Club, C. P. BEERS, New phone 149, old phone 1491, Jackman Block.

The First Consideration of This School Is To Have Things Done Exactly Right.

The business world is every day demanding a higher grade of service from the young men and women who would enter its employ. The demand for LOW GRADE office assistants is lessening, but for those who are willing to become PROFICIENT, the chances for success are superior to those of any other profession.

In securing a business education, as well as anything else which entails an expenditure of money, the COST is an item of interest. In computing the cost, QUALITY should be the chief consideration. It is not what you pay for anything, but what it is worth that determines its value. Institutions galore offer courses similar to ours, BUT THEY DO NOT GIVE AS MUCH SATISFACTION FOR A DOLLAR AS WE DO. Our courses are so thorough, so comprehensive, so well taught, that it costs no more than many others. BUT IT PAYS MORE IN THE END.

Graduates of the Southern Wisconsin Business College Always Secure the Best Paying Positions

Years of experience, both in the office and the schoolroom, has enabled us to make all our work intensely practical. Everything is reduced to the system and precision found in the modern business office. No slipshod work is tolerated. The student who masters our courses will be enabled to command enough EXTRA salary in his first position to pay for his course in three months.

The Courses in All Business Schools Are Not Alike

NEW ASSOCIATION TO BE LAUNCHED

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT CITY HALL LAST NIGHT.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE NAMED

To Look Into the Matter of Incorporation of New Association—Much Money Raised for the Work Planned.

Concerted action, harmonious feeling and a self-evident desire to make the new association a powerful factor in the future development of Janesville could plainly be seen among the representative body of businessmen who gathered in the city hall last night and took preliminary steps toward forming a permanent incorporated body which will devote its energies toward boosting the city as an ideal location for new industries and provide an expert commercial secretary to care for the city's interests.

Although there have been several bodies organized in the past for this same purpose, none of them have been inaugurated under more auspicious circumstances or showed more promise as regards the real good that can be accomplished for the city.

The meeting held last night was for the purpose of organizing a permanent, boosting organization and was the result of a very general feeling among the manufacturers and businessmen of the city that such an organization, in addition to a permanent commercial secretary, was absolutely necessary if Janesville wished to secure any new industries or keep abreast with the times. In order to show that the sentiment of the city was in favor of a paid secretary subscription papers had been passed around and $3,350 of the $5,000 deemed necessary has been pledged.

At eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by H. H. Bliss, who outlined briefly the purpose of the gathering, told of the former organizations and what they had not accomplished, and finished by enumerating the various duties that would fall to the lot of a commercial secretary and the good that such a man would do for the city as a whole. By unanimous vote Mr. Bliss was then elected temporary chairman, Frank Kimball temporary secretary.

That a commercial secretary, who understood traffic rates, could do much for the shippers was brought out by J. A. Craig, who was the first to address the meeting. He brought out the fact that although Janesville has been very fortunate in having agents in this city who worked hard to select the most favorable rates for local manufacturers, a commercial secretary could afford to take more time for such duties and in addition, as a representative of Janesville shippers as a whole, could secure a reduction of rates.

Mr. Craig also stated that wherever this plan had been tried it had never been abandoned, but had steadily grown in efficiency in every case. He also showed that the unfair rates to which this city is subjected has been the prime factor in losing several large new industries. In conclusion, for the purpose of facilitating organization and placing the club on a working basis, he moved that a committee of three be appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. As a suggestion he stated that the constitution and by-laws of the Commercial Club would, with a few adaptations, serve the purpose.

T. S. Nolan then offered an amendment which was accepted by Mr. Craig, to the effect that the club should be incorporated. This, however, proved an unforeseen stumbling block in the path of perfecting a permanent organization immediately and getting down to business, the expressed purpose of the majority of those present, for until the club could be incorporated, no officers could be elected nor could steps be taken toward employing a secretary.

After much discussion, in which several members attempted to get around the delay incident to the incorporation and moved that the constitution and by-laws of the Commercial club be read. This was done and in order to adapt the constitution to the needs of the organization, Mr. Craig proposed an increase in the number of the executive committee and a modification of the dues.

After more deliberation a committee on legislation, to make a careful examination of the Commercial Club constitution and by-laws was appointed, consisting of T. S. Nolan, H. L. McNamara, P. S. Sheldon, J. A. Craig, Frank Jackman and George S. Parker. This committee was given full power to adapt the old rules to the needs of the new organization and met this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Among other propositions brought up during the course of the meeting was a suggestion by John Cunningham that as the objects of the old Commercial Club were similar to those of the new organization, there was no need of the proposed club, but that the old Commercial club could be made to serve the purpose. This, however, did not meet with general approval as many of those present seemed to desire that the new organization break away from all old ties and begin the work on an entirely new basis.

It was decided, however, that the old Commercial Club be invited to merge both their members and funds with the new club and an invitation was extended them which will probably be acted on at their next meeting.

Upon motion of George Sutherland the meeting was adjourned subject to the call of the secretary. It will be held as soon as the committee have decided upon the constitution and by-laws and the articles of incorporation have been located.

The meeting was one of the most representative that has ever been held in the city and while the work of perfecting the organization was delayed, owing to unforeseen conditions, still it is certain that the association when formed will be one of the strongest that the city has ever had. The money subscribed, through the medium of subscription papers, totaled over four thousand dollars.

Dr. Beaton's Lectures.

The artist, the poet, and the religious prophet are all interpreters of the value of human life. They and their like tell us of the essential value of things and their permanent worth. It is in this sense that the true preacher of the gospel should be viewed—to help people see things as the artists, poets, and philosophers see them—in the large and in their relative value in all life. The subject of Dr. Beaton's sermon tomorrow morning at the Congregational church will be "An Interpreter of Christ" and it will deal with this phase of the Christian as an interpreter of the higher life. The subject of the evening lecture will be the very practical question: "What is a Successful Life?"

BIG RACING MEET SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Races Planned for Yesterday Will Be Run Off on Ice at Gas Pond Tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon on the ice at the gas pond, the big racing meet of the local owners, which was to have taken place yesterday, will be run off. Quite a number of those who have speedy horses were unable to put in an appearance, but tomorrow, if the weather is fair, it is probable that all the fast horses in the town will be out. The steeds will be divided into two classes and to the winner of each class will be given a whip, the prizes being donated by George Charlton and John Sheridan. Alvin MacNeil will act as starter. The horses were run on the ice yesterday afternoon, and in four heats "Brier," owned by J. L. Fisher and driven by Mr. Holt, was beaten by E. Ray Lloyd's "Rex." There were but three horses on the pond, David Griffin's being the other one. This afternoon a special race between D. B. Griffin's horse and Harry Perry's horse will take place.

MANY CHANGES MADE AT THE MYERS HOTEL

Mrs. McNeil Has Made Alterations and Improvements in the Interior.

During the past few weeks the interior of the Myers hotel has undergone most thorough renovation and several important changes have been made which improve the appearance greatly. The office has been entirely redecorated, the ceilings painted, and frescoed and arrangements made for the central office of the Postal Telegraph company which will be installed there the first of the coming week. Up stairs Mrs. McNeil has changed the appearance very greatly by dividing the old parlor, just off the dining room, into a large sample room and a cozy, convenient reception hall, most delightfully furnished. Under the stairs, leading to the third floor, a quaint little Turkish corner has been arranged. This is in the hall which leads to Mrs. McNeil's private apartments which were completely some time ago and consist of a handsome dining room, parlor and bedroom.

On the second floor, the hall which overlooks the balcony on Main street, has been converted into a music room and parlor, newly decorated and otherwise re-furnished and made cozy and attractive. Repairs on the main floor of the hotel have been entirely re-decorated and re-modeled many of the bedrooms and halls.

NEGRO DESPERADO NOW UNDER ARREST

Henry Prince, Known as "Prince Henry," Arrested for Vagrancy—Assault Attempt Alleged.

Henry Prince, colored, recently of Beloit, who has a bad record in this city, was brought up in municipal court this morning on a charge of vagrancy and lewd conduct, pleaded not guilty to the charge and will appear for examination Friday, Feb. 4, at 10 a. m.

Henry, better known as "Prince Henry," is known as a "bad" man and in the past has had several narrow escapes from the penitentiary. He was arrested last night on complaint of Mrs. John Newbower, whom he accosted on South Fifth street while she was returning to her home after visiting some friends. It was thought at first that a charge of assault could be brought against him, but it was learned this morning that although he had not been able to carry it out.

Mrs. Newbower has cause to fear him, as he is alleged to have attempted the same crime some five years ago but managed to clear himself and was warned to leave the city. On Aug. 3, 1907, he was arrested, fined and imprisoned for drunkenness. Since that time he has given Janesville a wide berth, but after losing his job in Beloit several weeks ago, came to this city. Being unable to furnish $400 bail, he will spend the next week in the county jail.

LOCAL SCHOOL WAS VERY EASY VICTOR

Trimmed up the Players From Stoughton by A Score of 25 to 13.

Janesville high school basketball team trimmed the Stoughton high school aggregation last evening in a game at the local high school, by the score of 25 to 13. Stoughton had a five made up of larger men than the Janesville squad, but they were slower in their movements and Janesville played all around them. The team work and passing of the lower City players was largely responsible for their victory. The features of the game for Janesville were the guarding of Wilkinson and the basket throwing of Korst. The lineup and scores of last evening were:

Free throws: Gjerston, 4; Murphy, 2.

The high school team of this city has been undefeated in their season thus far and there is a possibility, if fortune favors them, that they may participate in the tournament for the high school title for the state. To take part in this event, they will have to defeat Albany, Wausau and possibly Evansville high schools.

New Garage, Largest in the State, Formally Dedicated Last Wednesday

Fine, Remodeled Garage is Ready For the Coming Busy Season

Much Interest Taken in the Auto Men's Show

Hokanson Company's New Garage at Madison Visited By Large Numbers

With everything bright and new, everything as complete and up-to-date as money and brains could make it, the handsome new home of the Hokanson Automobile Co., at 14-20 East Doty street, Madison, was thrown open to the public last Wednesday.

The display room on the first floor contained sparkling new models of the 1910 type. There were two Oaklands, eight different models of the new Buicks, one Oldsmobile and four White steam and gas cars. Every car on the floor, but one, was sold before 8 o'clock in the evening.

On the ground floor, surrounded by palms and other floral decorations, Thompson's orchestra of six pieces rendered an excellent program throughout the afternoon and evening.

Over 2,500 invitations were sent out and many people attended the opening. Distinguished men in the automobile world from Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Michigan; and Chicago, and other automobile centers were present.

As completed, the garage will accommodate 200 automobiles and is not equalled in the entire northwest in size, convenience and adaptability to the purpose for which it was constructed. It is three stories in height and has about 25,000 feet of floor space. The main floor is 72x132 feet, without a single post or obstruction and will store 100 cars without the least difficulty. The second floor, which is supported by seven large steel trusses, is of the same size. Here are located the private and general offices of the company, ladies' waiting room, show room for rebuilt cars, repair shop and accessory room, the machine departments, being manned with skilled workmen and latest improved type of machinery.

The third floor which is devoted to the vulcanizing and paint department, where tires will be rebuilt. The various floors are reached by a large electric elevator which will carry the largest cars with ease. A department for repairing electric cars will be established on the first floor.

A large number of incandescent lights furnish abundant illumination and the building is steam heated throughout. With the lot on which it stands the garage represents a cash investment of $40,000.

The Hokanson Automobile Co. is capitalized at $70,000 and is regarded as one of the strongest and most progressive business firms in Madison. Its officers are: President—Charles F. Spooner, Vice-President—Emil Hokanson, Treasurer—George P. Miller, Secretary and Manager—Rudolph Hokanson.

The growth of this concern reads like a fairy tale. Five years ago it was a mere infant in the business world of Madison, reaching out and eager to grow, and today it stands as one of the strongest and largest business houses in that city and occupies one of the finest homes in the northwest. It had its beginning in very modest quarters and a little over a year ago opened a new garage.

Growing and branching out every day the company soon learned that the new building was not large enough, and immediate steps were taken to remodel and enlarge it. In making these changes the company has simply tried to keep pace with the procession of business that has come its way.

They have branches scattered through their territory which covers the whole southern part of Wisconsin. They are represented ably in Janesville by Prielipp Bros., who carry the same line of cars handled in Madison, namely: the Oakland, Buick, White Steam and White Gas, Oldsmobile and Brush Rambout.

BUICK

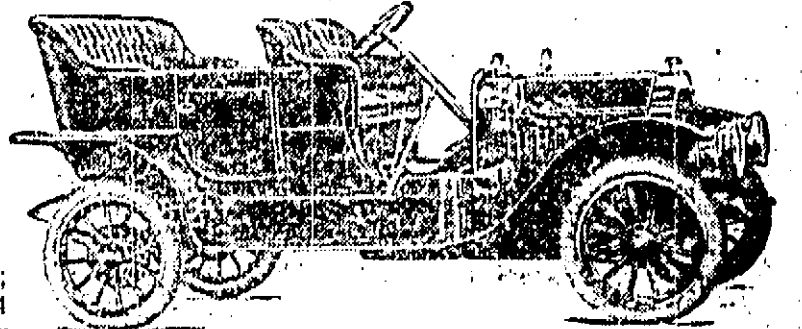

The Most Efficient Motor and the Most Serviceable Car in the Motor World

The thought which we want to impress on your mind most deeply is that the Buick factory has the most splendid and most complete line of any one make. It is THE car for all purposes. The Buick has proven its superiority and its worth everywhere on American soil. The Buick may be found everywhere. Its looks and its deportment are subjects for comment. That's the guarantee behind the Buicks. Can any car manufacturer beat it?

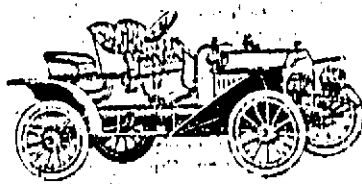

No car at any price is better than the Buick car in any way. There are no cars more impressively elegant, more thoroughly efficient or more reliable. There isn't a detail, however apparently small and insignificant but what has had the most careful thought in its working out. Therefore the Buick is the high-water mark of automobile engineering, absolute simplicity of operation and control, interchangeability, absence of complicated parts, extreme accessibility at all points. Its most comfortable and luxurious appearance is beyond compare or in other words the maximum car at the minimum price. Following are cuts showing the different models of the famous Buick family.

"OAKLAND"

The splendid success achieved by Oakland cars since their conception, can only be attributed to the fact that they have met every requirement demanded by their purchasers. By their meritorious and consistent performance, the good qualities of the Oakland were at once recognized and the record made by these cars during the season has been convincing proof of their worthiness. As a hill climber, and this is undoubtedly the severest test, the Oaklands have proven themselves to be the leader among all cars, regardless of price.

Winner in all classes entered at Fort George Hill in Carnival climb.

Winner at Dead Horse hill climb, Rochester, Mass. Entered in six different classes, won each and every one, making the hill a greater number of times than any other car.

Winner at Look Out Mountain, Chattanooga, Tenn. The Buick won four out of five events, also made faster time than cars with much higher power and price.

Buick 30 wins the Coca Cola trophy at Atlanta, Ga., by travelling a distance of 250 miles with stock chassis in 165.48 or a rate of 75 miles per hour, the fastest record at the meet.

Buick winner of the Cobe cup, held at Crown Point, Ind. The Buick travelled 395.65 miles, averaging 49.9 miles per hour. 12 cars started, but the Buick showed its consistency and reliability.

Buick wins six out of seven events at San Antonio, Texas.

Above-mentioned contests are only a very few of the many won by the Buick. It must be remembered that the Buick holds all American car records, whether hill climb or speed. Taft Will Not Stop Union Pacific Suit

President Approves Attorney General's Recommendation in Railroad Matter.

Washington, Jan. 20.—President Taft has approved the recommendation of Attorney General Wickersham that the suit against the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger be not abandoned and the issue will be fought out in the courts.

The text of Mr. Wickersham's report has not been made public. It is understood, however, that he informs the president that the acquisition of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific railroad, under the administration of the late E. H. Harriman, was distinctly a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The case is said to be similar with that of the Northern Securities case. The contention of the Harriman interests, as represented by Judge Lovett, that the merged companies are continuing, instead of parallel lines is rejected.

President Taft has kept himself well informed of all the arguments in this case and the report of the attorney general was in a measure perfunctory since he and the president have been agreed from the beginning with regard to the case. The president believes that this is a clear case of violation of the law—one of those to which reference has been made in his messages; and instructions will be issued now to the department of justice to press the case to trial as speedily as possible.

LODGE ATTACKS THE PACKERS.

Says They Are Responsible for High Price of Meat.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, in a speech in the senate, attacked the Chicago packers, holding those gentlemen, whose status is now being investigated by a federal grand jury, as entirely responsible for the high price of meat. He called them a trust, said they fix prices and intimated that he hopes they will go to jail for their sin. And further, he declared that if he thought it would do any good he would vote to take the duty off meat and cattle.

Denmark, The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Egypt, Persia.

It is expected therefore that the proclamation recommended will be issued by the president soon.

Court Refuses to Quash.

New York, Jan. 20.—Judge Hough in the United States court denied the motion to quash the indictments against Sanford Robinson, Arthur P. Helms, Carlos Warfield, Edwin O. Geer and F. Foreign Wrestlers By WALT MASON

I view with seven kinds of grief the gents resembling sides of beef, who come in droves from foreign lands, with eagerness, to lay their hands upon the dollars of our dads; I don't admire these mighty lads. They're not a credit to their sex; their heads are smaller than their necks; their language is a fearful hash of gurgles, grunts and balderdash; one word alone in all the junk can we distinguish—that is "plunk." And they, in times of bitter stress, rely on tonnage for success. I like to watch a wrestling bout; to see a man turned inside out, and tied in knots, and hung to dry upon some clothesline hanging high; I never yet have had my fill of knightly deeds and feats of skill; but evermore my soul complains, when sporting gents don't use their brains. These beefy wrestlers don't do that, because each one, beneath his fat, has nothing but an aching void; and so I'm peevish and annoyed to see the wrestlers rant and rage like hippos in a circus cage.

Not Likely to Become General.

Of course it was the daughter of an American millionaire who appeared at London's famous roller skating rink wearing a pair of heavily jeweled skates! We should all be terribly disappointed if any other girl had thought of such a thing first! But the idea is not likely to be widely imitated, even among the ultra rich, which is also a comfort.

TO COMPETE FOR MARATHON HONORS ON THE COAST.

San Francisco.—January will see the most important Marathon racing in the history of the west, when Dorando, who is now in San Francisco, meets Johnny Hayes in a special dual race. Excellent inducements to make the trip were received by Dorando and it is rumored he may meet Henry St. Yves in Portland or Seattle in case of a victory over Hayes. Hayes since his slump last year has been working faithfully. It is claimed by those who have watched him at work that he is in as good condition as when he won the Olympian Marathon race and a great battle is looked for.

A few days it was either a case of snow shoes or boots and many preferred the Canadian and Indian mode of travel, especially as it was a novelty.

The accidents, as may be imagined, were many though none was serious. The above picture is only typical of many camp scenes during the last few weeks. Many of the girls have now become quite proficient and are able to take long trips with only an occasional fall. They all pronounce it the greatest sport ever.

The Safe Man is the Useful Man

You and we have little interest in the unsafe man—that part of humanity who work in the dark. It's the man whose record is clean, who serves society, who is benefitting his neighbors and friends that we want to talk to. Our message is buy life insurance today. All WISE men who can get life insurance nowadays DO. It stiffens a man's courage; it sweetens his love for home, wife and babies; it commands confidence of your associates and it stifles you to look trouble squarely in the face.

Life insurance is a privilege. If it is within your reach today secure it today—tomorrow may be too late. We write the best policy in the world and with one of the strongest old line companies. It is the only policy which has a total disability clause.

SUPPOSE YOU BECOME TOTALLY DISABLED from sickness or accident, or become blind, or if you lose both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, then your premiums on this policy stop and the company pays you one twentieth of the policy each year until the full sum of the policy has been paid.

You would be willing to pay $49.96 per year for 20 years, a total of $999.20 and at the end of that time be paid back $1,000.00 in cold cash together with your share of the earnings of the company. Insurance really costs you nothing on this endowment policy—but of course the company has the use of your money, you get back more than you pay, you get insurance all the while you are paying in—it's better than saving your money in the bank.

It's a 20-Year Endowment Policy

If you should die before the 20 years, 1000 dollars would be paid to the beneficiary.

If the policy is in force one year, it is incontestable EXCEPT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

You will share in the earnings of the company, which earnings may be applied on the premiums, or they can be made to hasten the maturity of the contract.

You can borrow money of this policy as per Table "A". You can apply the loan as payment of premium. If two or more years full premiums have been paid and there is no indebtedness on account of loans, the policy will be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured, including dividend additions, for the length of time shown in the table "A" under the column "Extended Insurance," and at the end of the 20 years the company will also pay in cash the amount in table "A" under the column "Pure Endowment."

If the policy should lapse for non-payment of premiums, it can be re-instated at any time within five years by paying the amount due with interest, if satisfactory evidence of insurability is furnished to the company.

NO MAN CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE

Think of the benefit it would be to wife and family or mother, if you should be called by death. Think of the great amount you would get all in one sum at the expiration of the policy, and then consider that it really costs you nothing except the interest on the money you would be saving. Read over the above carefully, see how you can borrow money on this policy, how it will carry itself, how you can be reinstated within five years if you should lapse.

Insure Your Wife

and make the $1000.00 payable to your child, you will be saving just that much money and all during the twenty years your wife is insured. Every rich man is insured heavily, every poor man needs it even more.

Now is the best time to consider this matter. Every day, every month you put it off you are getting older—your rate is getting higher and no one knows when it will be too late.

Insurance is of vital importance to every man and woman. It's a matter that should not be put off—you would do yourself the best service if you take up the matter today.

Write us to send you a sample policy so that you can read it over carefully, or if you prefer, we will call and explain the policy to you. Fill out the coupon right now.

Do not let this important matter go another day.

Household Worries

The woman who has the care of children in addition to her household duties frequently finds the drain upon her vitality more than her constitution can stand. She becomes nervous, irritable, passes sleepless nights, has headache, backache and other weaknesses that make life miserable. For such there is nothing that gives such quick relief as

Dr. Miles' Nervine which acts directly upon the nerves, refreshing and strengthening them. "I was in a very weak condition; could not gain any strength; on the contrary, I passed into nervous prostration. I had headache, nervousness, could not sleep. I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine and grew rapidly better. For weak women there is nothing better." MRS. M. G. GILBERTSON.

Be careful, the first bottle will benefit it, not your druggist will return your money.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"I HAVE gambled more or less all my life, but it never got the better of me but once," a newspaper man said to me the other day. "And that once was when I got in with a crowd of men who had a good deal more money than I. They were real estate men. My business threw me in with them for a few months, and during that time I spent more money on cards than I had a right to—but that was the only time."

No, don't be scared. This isn't to be a preachment against the danger of gambling—simply a few words against what seems to me the greater danger of "getting in with a crowd" that has more money than you do.

It wasn't the gambling that got that man.

It was simply the desire to live up to a financial standard that was too high for him.

I do not believe that any five-dollar man, unless he has unusual strength of character, can be thrown constantly with fifty-dollar people and not yield occasionally to the temptation to spend as they do.

In some one of his books Charles Dickens says that if you earn fifty pounds a year and spend forty-nine pounds and nineteen shillings you can be happy, but if you make fifty pounds a year and spend fifty pounds and one shilling, you are pretty apt to be very unhappy.

True enough, except that no matter how carefully you keep your expenditures within that fifty pounds I doubt if you will be happy if you associate too constantly with people who earn a hundred pounds.

In the town where I was brought up there lives a sourd woman for whom few even of the most tolerant folk have a good word.

She was the only daughter of the owner of a small shop, who made perhaps $1,500 or $2,000 a year.

She was a pretty girl. Her mother was a clever woman and ambitious for her daughter. Together they managed to place themselves in the set of the five- and ten- and fifteen-thousand-dollar-a-year people.

When the daughters of these families finished high school they went to one of the most expensive colleges.

The shopkeeper's daughter did likewise, of course.

And as far as history relates all went well with her until the middle of her second year, when a slip of yellow paper summoned her home one day rather rudely.

Welghed down by the burden of his wife's and daughter's attempts to live at a ten-thousand-dollar rate on a two-thousand-dollar income, her father had failed in business, and against the thought of interrupting his daughter's education, had committed suicide so that she might finish it with his life insurance.

This is not a wild surmise. He stated his purpose very explicitly and apologetically in a note, the contents of which somehow or other leaked out.

And, furthermore, that girl actually took the money and calmly went about completing her education.

But she had gone too far. The friends for whom she had done this fell away from her—as such friends have a way of doing. That was fifteen years ago, but her name is still a household word of ill repute. Her shame is still a village tradition.

It is splendid to have so strong a character that one is never in the least swayed by the financial standards of those about him.

But since the average person does not have such a character, it seems to me that he will probably be better off if he makes it a plan to "travel" for the most part with the people of his own financial plane.

In all likelihood he will find just as nice and interesting and refined people in that plane as in the next higher—and infinitely more peace of mind in their society.

Madison, Wis.—A campaign for the conservation of human resources, begun quietly here two years ago, is developing into one of the most significant parts of the great conservation movement now attracting nation-wide attention.

At that time a group of social workers, and those interested in the improvement of conditions of labor, met here and organized the American Association for Labor Legislation. Among those identified with this new movement were Professor Richard T. Ely of the University of Wisconsin, its first president; Prof. John R. Commons, the University of Wisconsin, its secretary; John Mitchell, Jane Addams, Dr. Felix Adler, Florence Kelley, Mrs. Raymond Robbins, Father J. A. Ryan, Robert Hunter and V. E. G. Moore, all well known for their activity in various fields of social service.

Beginning in a modest way, the organization has extended its influence into practically every state of the union in an effort to shape sentiment and legislation.

The efforts of the association are

Our Town Druggists say that Pinkettes sell the best of any medicine they keep; during the hard times of the year or two, there were none too poor to pay their "quarter" for a bottle of this indispensable family medicine. It is the genuine. 25c, 50c, and labor legislation in 1909 prepared by Miss Irene Osgood, something follows in sociology, a summary of the provisions for industrial education made by various states, compiled by Prof. E. C. Elliott of the department of education of the University of Wisconsin, are among the other publications just issued.

Over 50,000 copies of these publications have been sent out from here in an effort to demonstrate such important elements in the conservation of human resources as "Permanent industrial progress can not be built upon the physical exhaustion of women;" "A busy, short lived race demands the consistent application of practical economics to the entire educational system;" "Labor legislation for the most part falls in its purpose on account of defective administration; therefore administration is the great problem of the future;" and "Knowledge and appreciation of social needs determines judicial decisions, for courts generally reflect the state of enlightenment of their communities."

Dr. John B. Andrews, who as secretary of the association is the active manager of the campaign of the association, is a graduate of Dartmouth college. He pursued his studies in economics and sociology with particular reference to the labor problems under Professors J. R. Commons and John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin, in which he held an honorary fellowship, receiving the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Wisconsin last June.

MRS. QUINN'S PHILOSOPHY. "Come in, ma'am. Sure I was thinkin' I would see you this day. Feelin' well, ma'am? Sure I am. It's a pretty good old world, after all, ma'am, though sometimes we be a doubtin'."

"When they talk me by away to the juvenile court, ma'am, I was sure that it was a bitter bad world, not a kind heart a breath in it and here comes me neighbors a tellin' me that they know the by was doin' nothin' wrong. An' they promise to smack the kids that say the word policeman in court to the by. Sure that was best as all, ma'am, for a name like that will make a good child turn bad. The sets to thinkin' that nobody cares, and thin he gets to thinkin' that he don't care neither, and thin, ma'am, ye have a start for a bad man an' a sorrow for a mother every day in the year."

"An' the judge, ma'am, talked that kind to the by that he had made him more like himself, ma'am. He told him that it was sent as a warnin', perhaps, not to go any way, that was a doin' wrong. And that he good for the by to hear from some one besides his old mammy. I'm still thinkin', ma'am, that they took him too sudden like, and that they should have talked to me first an' listened to what some of the neighbors had to say for the kid, besides them as was doin' all they could, ma'am, to make him out a bad by, but thin mistakes will happen, ma'am. May be they haven't got it to runnin' smooth yet, ma'am. Sure it is a new thing, yet, the juvenile court. I'm rememberin' when they took a by and put him in the jail with all the crooks and thieves, ma'am, an' sometimes it was days before he could be brought up for trial. Sure, ma'am, that was sure to make another thief or crook, for no matter if the by was innocent when he went in, he was never innocent when he came out."

A House Gown. The little house gown sketched above was truly smart despite its simplicity and might be easily made by the home dressmaker. This particular dress was fashioned of a soft dull bluish prunella cloth. The simple little blouse in one with the sleeves white, embroidered in conventional design in a deeper shade of blue. The lower cuff was also of this embroidered, supplemented by another of the material. The waist line was marked by several rows of shirring, giving the effect of a one-piece gown. The overskirt was turned up at the bottom, disclosing below a fitted blouse of the material.

3-YEAR OLD TRAVELER IS LOST.

Spends Whole Day in Railroad Station, Then Is Claimed.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—After arriving in Springfield from her home in Edinburg in care of a Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad conductor, Viola Overton, three years old, forgot her name and the road officials were unable to locate her relatives. After remaining in the station throughout the day C. A. Bahr, a farmer residing west of the city, claimed the child as his granddaughter. The child arrived while the station was crowded and relatives who were waiting did not see her in charge of the conductor.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read this Advice and the Generous Offer that Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the sanifera, douches or the remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows itself most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. This internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Reckall Mucosa-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Reckall Mucosa-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Reckall Mucosa-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Remedies in Janesville only at our store, The Reckall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

WALLACE MILLS WRITES OF CALIFORNIA'S CHARM.

Wallace Mills, son of Dr. and Mrs.
James Mills and a student at Stanford university, has become enamored of California's charms and the following vivid description from his pen of the wonderful panorama which he sees spread out before him will appeal to the man who is weary of the coal-min
and all the cares and worries it entails:

California, I believe, is now the most wonderful and unique of the American states; and a surprising fact
about it is that though widely celebrated this wonderland is not at all
well known outside its own borders.
For descriptions of it are quite generally polite or written at long range.
If one would become acquainted with the far west he should see it in person, for to truly know and feel the beauties and comforts of life in the "Golden State" it is essential that its environment be experienced.
Even people who visit California
hardly realize the immensity of the state, for it is the largest in the Union except Texas. Its greatest length is about eight hundred miles, and its breadth three hundred and thirty miles, with a coast line of nearly one thousand miles.
California's fame originates in its
climate and scenery, which qualities are the pride and boast of each inhabitant. To him they are like his favorite children, always supposed to be praised and to be the topic of conversation with every visitor. They show remarkable beauty and rare contrasts. Mr. Whitney, for example, the littled tip of the United States, ever snow-capped, rises just at the edge of the submerged and scorching stretch
of alkali desert known as Death Valley.

Similarly in other parts of California, there is found the greatest variety
of climate, often within a limited range. Yet everywhere, both north and south, the temperature of each locality is surprisingly constant. Indeed the change in seasons is scarcely greater than that between some days
and their nights, since the latter are always cool. Thus it may be said that the nights like those of the Equator are the winters, and each day
is a summer. To say that such a favorable and uniform temperature
would become monotonous is as much
as to say the same of good health.
As I have said, the seasons in California are quite unmarked. The terms
"summer" and "winter" as used in the eastern states have but little application here. The year is more properly divided into the "dry season" and the "rainy season." The former,
which commences in May, is not only dry but rainless. In October and November the country is visited with showers and the dry brown land gradually takes on a most beautiful color,
and by midwinter the grass is fresh
and green on the hills as well as in the valleys. Then the rains become more frequent, and by April the weather
is as delightful as the most perfect
day in June.

Snow-capped mountains, with their luxuriant supply of water, make
the valleys smile with unfading crops
of oranges, lemons, limes, grapes,
walnuts, olives, figs, raisins, and a score of strange and semi-tropical products which grow here luxuriantly.

One sees the acacia, camphor, pepper,
magnolia, eucalyptus and cypresses,
also palm trees of many kinds. Color is lent by flowers and flowering shrubs
of even greater variety than the trees,
and as some of them are always in bloom, the beauty of the home is matter how humble is enhanced every day of the year.

The scenery is perhaps better known than the climate. Picture a lovely valley flooded with the bright light of winter morning. To the artistic and rose-covered bungalow of the California farmer over a sea of billowy white comes the sea of the blossoming prairie, scented
in the gentle breeze of the Pacific.
Back of this dazzling panorama rises
a rugged ridge of mountains flanked with giant redwoods; and nearer of the valley are graceful rolling foothills fringed with vineyards, ribbed
with white orchards and flecked here and there with yellow popples. Such is one of the varicolored landscapes
in the California room of nature's picture gallery—the beautiful Santa Clara valley (the home of Stanford university) bordering on the Bay of San Francisco.

The most beautiful scenery is indeed inspiring and a mild climate may mean health but one cannot live on them alone. However delightful the physical features a community possesses, its social and economic conditions must also be attractive if it is desirable as a place of residence. Some believe that California is rude and wild, a part of the "Wild and Woolly West" like its neighboring stock countries. Roosevelt says, "It is a land beyond the west—that is, a land apart,
a land by itself."
The character of the residents
reaches a high average for refinement and civilization, as is evidenced by their homes. For not even in the farm house is the path from the farm house to the school so well trodden,
nor can any other state boast so large
a proportion of university students.
The older generation attained culture
in the east—quite a few indeed in the far east. Contributed with the boundless resources and the wonderful possibilities of the "Golden State" and more than all by its generous comforts, they left their snug dwellings
and native communities to enjoy the freer atmosphere of the palms and oranges. Then all took up the gospel of good. Boost California, boost the Panama-Pacific exposition, boost the new San Francisco, boost everything.
That is the spirit of civic and business activities, and it has made them
a prosperous people, in fact, the richest in America as shown by the last census.
Say that the cost of living is excessive, that not all the grafting is done

on trees, that manufacturers are ventures or whatever you will, but truly
there is nevertheless some ineffable charm about the open life of this land not found in eastern centers. It is recognized by the thousands who flock, in winter, to its sunny playgrounds; and if this country does not meet every expectation of the tourist,
yet its fascination will ever cling to
him. Some time, at least some wintry
day, he will like to return to California.

INSTALL OFFICERS AT LARGE MEETING

Evansville Post of the G. A. R. and
W. R. C. Had Enjoyable
Time Last Night.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Evansville, Jan. 19.—About two hundred attended the joint installation of the newly elected officers of the G. A. R.
and W. R. C. which was held in their hall last evening. The husbands and wives of both orders were guests
and a tempting supper was served at six o'clock. Commander J. Fred Carlo of Janesville presided as installing officer for both G. A. R. and W. R. C.
The installation ceremonies were followed by a varied program, the principal numbers of which were an excellent address by Mr. Carlo and readings by Mrs. Charles Ballard and Miss Fern Hall. Both ladies responded to hearty encores. It was a great pleasure to the members to have Commander Carlo in their midst, for he is not a stranger to them, having lived near here before going to Janesville to reside. When he went to the war
he was one of eight who went from this vicinity and enlisted in the same company. Of that number only four are living and three were present last evening, P. I. Ebbell and Thomas King being the other two. The newly

The Catarrh Cure is the only positive

It cures in a constitutional manner, in-

the Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting

CHEESEMAKERS END SESSION AT MONROE

Southern Wisconsin Association Finish Business Meeting at Green County City.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Monroe, Wis., Jan. 19.—The Southern Wisconsin Cheesemakers' and Dairymen's association closed the most successful convention ever held by the association yesterday afternoon. Resolutions adopted hit at the practice of patrons of some co-operative factories in publishing earnings
without stating conditions and hereafter reports will not be credited unless accompanied by statements showing deductions for expenses, etc.

Resolutions were adopted declaring for new tubs for why butter,
cleanly practices in delivering cheese,
and for the immediate establishment of a county dairy and agricultural school. One resolution asked for the repeal of the new law prohibiting indentured servants for two years for tubercule tests. Farmers who have not voted stock are strong in their opposition
to this law, while on the other hand
members approve of the law, which they say was designed to protect the farmer.

Dallas E. Davis, a patron of the Jordan Condensed Milk company,
spoke on summer and winter dairying and gave the figures showing that he had found winter milking the most profitable.

John Wacht reported a local alfalfa
census showing that farmers are more generally raising and feeding this crop.

Officers were elected as follows:
President—S. J. Stauffer, Monroe.
Vice President—Alex. Schaller, Bar-neveld.
Secretary—Henry J. Elmer, Monroe.
Treasurer—Dallas E. Davis, Monroe.
Director (3 years)—David Benkert, Monroe.

Dr. Helen Bingham.

Dr. Helen Bingham, a graduate of Boston university and formerly engaged in the practice as a homopathist in Milwaukee, died here at the home of her mother, Mrs. Caroline Bingham, aged 55 years. She was the first and most authentic history of Green county and was the founder of the Monroe Woman's club. Besides her mother she is survived by a brother,
H. W. Bingham of Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Anna Blumer passed away at her home here after a ten days' illness following a stroke of paralysis.
She was 87 years of age and came here from Switzerland in 1869. Nine children, eight grandchildren and ten
great-grandchildren survive her.

The adverse examination of J. B.
Treat in connection with an action
started in the circuit court by Mrs.
E. J. Pike for a full accounting as her agent for twenty-two years, took place before Court Commissioner Sam Blum here yesterday. M. G. Moffit was here as attorney for Mr. Treat and Evan Evans of Madison conducted the examination for Mrs. Pike.
Mrs. Pike received $25,000 out of an estate of $149,000 and according to her account she has $15,000 due her from the homestead. It is understood she claims a much larger sum.

Mrs. C. E. Christensen is here from Geneva, Ill., on a visit to friends.
Assemblyman A. H. Comstock was in the city yesterday from Albany.

M'KINLEY'S MEMORY IS HONORED TODAY

Carnations Worn in Observance of His Birthday Quite Generally.

The memory of William McKinley
was honored today, the sixty-eighth anniversary of his birth, by the wearing of carnations by members of the

Carnation League of America and by all who have followed the precedent
of the league in displaying the favorite flower of the former president on
"carnation day."

In the announcement of "carnation day" sent out by the league was the following:
"There are cycles in the history of nations and of men, and forever associated with the name and fame of this republic will be the names of the three great martyrs to the cause of humanity and civic liberty—Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and William McKinley."

"Let us, therefore, for one day at least, pay tribute to this one whose life was, in the fullest measure, an example which can well be followed by the coming generations."

CARDINALS VICTORS OVER MADISON FIVE

Local Five Won Easily in Match at Rink Against Quintet Representing Co. G.

In the presence of four hundred spectators who cheered and cheered
their playing, the Janesville "Cardinals" basketball team took their fourth consecutive victory at the rink
last evening defeating the five representing "Co. G" of Madison by a score of 53 to 10, which had the "Cardinals" exerted themselves, could have been made a good deal larger.

The two teams were about evenly
matched for height, but the Janesville
"backboarders" were much speedier of the floor than the Madison players
who, though playing a losing game,
played gentlemanly and clean throughout the contest. The contest was a work of an exhibition match for the Janesville squad who executed a number of good plays and showed the best playing form that they have this season. In the first half the "Cardinals"
made twenty-three points against seven by Madison. The first half tired the Capital City quintet and in the second half they could do nothing.
For five minutes of play in the last part of the game, the "Cardinals"
who had run up a score in the forties,
played a sort of practice game, passing the ball from one man to another without attempting to throw baskets.

They had the Madison five running around in circles trying to intercept the passes. Madison secured the ball and rushed it toward the Janesville
goal but the flower City bunch again
foiled them and took the ball away from them. A commendable quality shown by the "Co. G" players was that they took their medicine without grumbling. The entire "Cardinal" team played well together last evening and their team work and passing was excellent. Langdon and Canning, both played perhaps the most brilliantly of the squad, but the work of the others was not far behind in quality.

Langdon made three sensational throws to the basket from the field,
winning the plaudits of the crowd.
Matthews played an excellent game,
but Madison man almost at the end of the first half. In the second half he retired, Langdon taking his place and both going in for Langdon at guard.
Langdon and Bennett were the stars
in the last half at throwing baskets.
Langdon, at left forward, put up the best game for the Madison aggregation. In the second half they changed positions and took out Jacobson, substituting Stein for him.

The record of the game:

Janesville—Cunningham, right forward; Matthews and Langdon, left forward; Bennett, center; Biers, right guard; Langdon and Booth, left guard.
Co. G.—Sullivan, captain, and Finn, right forward; Ludwig, left forward;
Jacobson and Sullivan, center; Finn
and Stein, right guard; Bunnels, left guard.

Eight baskets—Langdon, 10; Bennett, 8; Biers, 4; Cunningham, 3; Ludwig, 2; Finn, 1.

Free throws—Ludwig, 3; Langdon,
2; Cunningham, 1; Finn, 1.
Refrigerator—George O'Connell of Madison, umpire, W. Carter, timekeeper, Hornstrom of Madison, scorer, Horn-strom for Madison; Baker for Janesville. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

BAPTIST YOUNG FOLKS' BANQUET

116 Were Seated at Festal Board Last Evening—Roy Elder Was Master of Ceremonies.

Covers were laid for 116 guests, besides the Sunday School orchestra, at the banquet tendered to the young people of the Baptist congregation at the church parlors last evening. The orchestra played while the ladies
served the repast and Roy Elder,
trustmaster, presided over the interesting program which followed. A duet by the Misses Lorena Elmer and Edith Clark was the opening number.
Floyd Davis responded to "Twenty Years Hence" and the Messrs. Banngarn and Lloyd Jones appeared in a very pleasing violin duet. Miss Mary Barker gave a graceful toast
to "The Better Half" and, following a selection by the quartet, E. W.
Currier talked about "People." A solo song by Mrs. Hazen was followed by a talk on "Our Young People" by Rev. Joseph C. Hazen; a discussion of "The Young People's Society" by R. B. Currier; and a consideration of
"Our Sunday School" by Mr. Sadler.
The program was followed by a social
good time.

JANESVILLE GIRLS ARE QUICKLY FOUND

Went to Madison to Secure Better Positions Than They Had
in This City.

According to a Madison dispatch,
two Janesville girls, Irene Richardson,
aged seventeen, daughter of Alderman
Richardson, and a companion, Jennie Jacobson, were found in Madison yesterday, having left their homes in this city to go to Madison to look for positions in a candy store. The Madison police are said to have located the two girls who left their homes here
on Thursday without leaving any clue
as to where they were going. The Jacobson girl is older than Irene Richardson, being about twenty. Alderman Richardson went to Madison yesterday and his daughter returned home with him. They told the Madison police that they had come to Madison to find work in a candy store and several dollars a week with their room
and board and that they thought this would be much better than working at home for six dollars a week as they were.

COOLEY MAKES NEW

PLEA FOR WATERWAY

Talks Five Hours to House River Committee—Makes Favorable Impression.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Lyman E. Cooley, the Chicago expert on river and water transportation matters, outlined before the house committee on rivers and harbors the plan of the Lakes and the Gulf Deep Waterway association, contemplating a channel from Chicago to New Orleans with a depth of 14 feet when completed and an ultimate depth of 24 feet.

He spoke for five hours in an endeavor to show the men of the committee the advantage such a water canal would have over a nine-foot channel, as proposed by the army engineers. He concluded his address with an admonition that congress should not commit the government to a project which would become obsolete before its completion.

The size of the scheme and the completeness with which it was presented by Mr. Cooley, together with the conviction of the engineer of its entire practicability and feasibility almost took the breath from the congressmen assembled to hear the argument. Chairman Alexander, at the close of the address, summed up the impression it had made upon the members of the committee when he said that Mr. Cooley's talk of itself was an education for all who heard it.

Contemplating, first of all, a channel of an ultimate depth of 24 feet from the lakes to the gulf of Mexico, the plan is broadly extended to reach every navigable stream in inland United States.

It provides that the great lakes shall be used as a gigantic storage reservoir, so regulated that its waters may be used to equalize the depth and flow of the rivers and canals with which the lakes are connected.

"There you are," responded Brand simply, his eyes meeting those of the jurist.

Barclay glanced cautiously at the editor, seeking for signs of deception, of a trap, but he found them not.

"Mr. Brand, what do you want?" he asked sharply.

"What's it worth to you?"

"I would prefer you to set the figure."

"No."

"How about $10,000?" asked the judge.

"Yes," agreed Brand, rising. "In cash tonight."

"Fifteen short notice for such a sum," protesting. "Where shall I see you?"

"At my office."

"Your office—the Advance? No, no. I prefer you to come to my chambers about noon tomorrow. We shall be quite private there."

"I can't wait that long for it, judge. I've got to have it tonight."

"Oh, is it something of that sort? Well, then, come to my house after dinner."

"But I've got to be at my office," insisted the editor.

"I hardly like to go there, Mr. Brand."

"That's up to you, judge. But if you don't come the story goes to press tonight. Well?" with a rising inflection.

"Judith Barclay entered."

"Will you come now, papa?" she asked.

"Just a moment, my dear. I intended to ask Dupuy to dine with us."

"Oh, can't you take him to the club?" she pouted.

"That wouldn't be convenient, my dear. You know we're going to the opera."

"He stepped back toward the library. 'Mr. Brand, I'll see you again before you leave.'"

"How do you do, Mr. Brand?" she finally asked.

"How do you do, Miss Barclay?"

"His manner was awkward and strained. A moment of embarrassed silence."

"I haven't seen you all winter." She placed her hands on the back of a chair near a settee.

"No; I haven't been anywhere. I've been kept pretty close at work." He paused. "Won't you sit down?"

"She moved to the left and occupied the settee. After a few moments of silence she said:

"It's strange I haven't seen you all winter. I suppose it will be another hundred years before I see you again."

Brand looked intently at her.

"It won't be if you wish to see me any sooner, Judith," and, thus speaking, he leaned over the back of the settee toward the girl he loved.

"Why, of course I wish—er— You were having a talk with father when I came in, weren't you?"

"Yes," rising and stepping back from her.

"Wheeler, come here," the girl asked wistfully. "I want to talk to you."

He moved to a chair close by her side.

"Aren't you beginning to realize that you may have been a bit headstrong?" she said tenderly, looking into his eyes.

"I'm afraid you are getting in very deep. Your friends, most of them, have been patient with you so far, but there's a limit, you know, and you'll lose them."

"Oh, Wheeler!" she was intensely earnest. "Is it worth while to let them go just for an idea?"

"A man must act according to his light, Judith."

"And a woman according to hers."

"What's the matter with you?" he asked, looking at her.

"I'm sorry."
